Buchter Loses School Contract

Board Replaces Architect For Inland Valley Work

Orinda School District trustees picked an architect to design the proposed Inland Valley School Monday night. For the first time in nine years, the district's school designer was not Jack Buchter.

Instead, the contract was awarded to Oakland architects Anderson and Simmonds.

The exclusion of Buchter, who had designed four of the five present Orinda schools, drew a volley of protest at the school board meeting from Orinda Attorney Joseph Longacre.

Speaking "as a citizen taxpayer and a friend of Buchter," Longacre was indignant that the board decided to "make a change for change's sake" in not giving Buchter the contract.

The local architect, Longacre said, has designed the four schools well under state aid allowances.

HE MAINTAINED Buchter had saved $80,000 on one school and $45,000 on another.

As president of the district's Educational Advisory Committee, Longacre lauded Buchter's contributions to the district and his professional work.

Both District Superintendent Joseph L. Sheaff and the board concurred that Buchter's work was commendable, but the trustees felt it was their duty to "consider other professional people."

"THE TRUSTEES felt it might be beneficial to give another architect a trial," Sheaff told The Sun.

"This doesn't mean that Buchter's services in the district are discontinued," he added. "In fact, Buchter is still working on the additions at Pine Grove and Sleepy Hollow.

"It's anticipated that he'll do the additions at Glorietta and Del Rey as well," the superintendent said.

TRUSTEE LOUIS Ambler emphasized that Buchter's work "was highly satisfactory," but maintained another professional should be given a chance.

Representatives of the Taxpayers' Association and other organizations were present at Monday's meeting to hear an airing of the districts proposed new $2.75 tax rate ceiling.

The trustees explained that they had reached that proposal through the findings of the Odell Associates of anticipated school growth over the next five years.

THEY STRESSED that the figure was not arbitrary. Budgets for the next five years demanded a tax limit of very close to $2.75. Rather than a limit of $2.50 or $3, that compromise figure was reached, they said.

Also, they emphasized, this was not necessarily the tax rate, but just the potential ceiling.

In other action, the board:

1. TENTATIVELY approved district civil defense evacuation plans, but questioned the stipulation which allowed children to walk home in case of emergency at their parents' request. Sheaff was assigned to study this problem.

2. Authorized Sheaff to file a notification of completion of landscaping at the Pine Grove School. Lawns, shrubs and trees were planted by Ted Osmundson of Osmundson and Staley.

3. Revealed that district enrollment had jumped from 2440 to 2463 over the Christmas vacation.

Doyle Text Committee Will Resume Hearings

By DICK OSBORN

Assemblyman Donald Doyle told The Sun today that his Assembly Subcommittee on textbook is "definitely not dead and never has been," and that permission has been granted by the House Rules Committee for another textbook hearing the latter part of this month.

Doyle also charged that the threat on the part of the state to sue six large textbook publishers was initiated by Dr. Roy Simpson, head of the State Department of Education, would come to nothing, and "was just another way of smokescreening Donald Doyle and his committee by Dr. Simpson."

Doyle explained that he is "only a layman, and not an attorney," but said:

"IF THOSE TEXTBOOK companies had been leasing their plates to any other state and denying them to California, the attorney general might have something. But how can you force a company to do something that it has never done before?

"Furthermore, those companies did not refuse to bid. They are still willing to bid on a whole book basis . . . they simply will not lease their plates, and I can't see how anyone can force them to."

Doyle said that he was not being critical of the attorney general's office, but said he felt that the "whole investigation" has come about as a result of the department of education.

HE ADDED THAT as far as the attorney general's finding in investigating the textbook committee, nothing untoward has turned up.

He also said that as far as the contemplated suit against the textbook firms is concerned, no suit has actually been filed and no fine has been imposed.

Doyle also added that he has not yet formulated any new legislation regarding textbooks, but that it was "too early in the year yet" to tell what might be forthcoming.

He revealed that textbook publishers will probably be asked to testify at the forthcoming hearing of his subcommittee "later this month in Sacramento," but that he has not definitely decided yet who would be asked to appear.

DOYLE SAID HE will announce the full agenda for the hearing as soon as it is formulated.

The latest action came as a result of the attorney general's office statement last week that it was charging six textbook pub-

Texbook Survey Group to Present Questionnaire

The Executive Board of the Contra Costa County Citizens Textbook Survey Committee met last night to lay plans for Tuesday's general membership meeting at the home of Major Gorton West, 1530 Rancho View Drive, Lafayette, 8 p.m.

Bill Zion, chairman of the survey group, stated that the meeting would be open to all residents of the area.

"IN OUR BASIC studies, brought about by the recent Doyle Committee findings on textbooks in California, we found that the subject has been barely touched in this area," he stated.

"We have found that we must have more committee members if we are to obtain a comprehensive survey of the textbook situation in Contra Costa County," he continued.

"At last night's meeting we prepared a general outline questionnaire to be used by members of the committee in their evaluation of the purchase of textbooks and to what amount these books are used in our schools.

"WE WANT TO know how much money is being spent by the individual school districts on supplementary texts. We also wish to learn just how much money is spent by the State Printing Office on textbooks. We know the published cost of the textbooks, but, what of the many hidden costs which are involved?" he asked.

"We have been able to prove that our committee has a common goal and that we are all working for the same end — better textbooks for our children," Zion explained.

At the Tueday night meeting the general outline prepared by the executive board will be presented to the general membership. The committee has a membership of 45.

"Another important question which we wish to ask both local and state administrators is: 'Why are the elementary schools bound to use State supplied texts while the secondary schools have a free hand?'."

"Does this permit a co-ordinated curriculum from grade one through grade 12? Can a child be given one set of books to learn from and be presented one method of instruction, then in grade 9 given an entirely different set of standards? This is another question which we feel must be answered," stated Zion.

Questions concerning the activities of the survey group should be directed to Mrs. Hal Bates, AT 4-4205. Anyone interested in the textbook situation in Contra Costa is invited to attend the meeting Tuesday night.

"Everyone should take a vital interest in the textbook problem and should work for its solution," urged Mrs. Bates.

GROUND-BREAKING ceremonies for the new dial equipment building of the Pacific Telehpone and Telegraph Company on the west side of Santa Maria Way, Orinda, were held last Friday morning. Among those at the event were, left to right, Merle Brown, Orinda Chamber of Commerce president, digging up the first shovelful of earth; contractors F. O. Pearce and Norm Thorsell, and Mel Nielsen, who became District 2 county supervisor last Monday, handing the building permit to Pearce. —Sun photo by Bud Groth

Phone Firm Breaks Ground For New Dial Building

Nationwide direct distance dialing is in store for Orinda (CLifford exchange) telephone customers.

That was announced by Pacific Telephone Manager Howard Greenhalgh last Friday as the company broke ground for a new dial equipment building in Orinda.

The new structure will go up on the west side of Santa Maria Way, northeast of Orinda Highway.

"IT WILL HOUSE the latest type equipment which will make it possible for people here to dial their own calls to many parts of California and across the nation," Greenhalgh said. He added that the cost of the new dial system would be about $1,040,000.

Greenhalgh explained that the present CLifford numbers fit into the nationwide numbering plan which makes direct distance dialing possible.

The new Orinda telephone building will be a one-story 92-by-70-foot structure. It will be constructed by the F. O. Pearce Company of Orinda.

"NOT ONLY WILL the new building provide direct distance dialing, but it will provide facilities for meeting the ever-expanding demand for telephone service in the Orinda area," Greenhalgh said.

The present telephone office in the Orinda Village is nearing its capacity, Greenhalgh stated. He pointed out that the number of phones here has multiplied some five times since 1945, rising from about 1150 to some 5500 now.

"Nationwide dialing, already available in Walnut Creek and Concord, is made possible by the magic of electronics and a special nationwide numbering plan," he explained.

"THE ELECTRONIC equipment puts the call through, keeps track of how long it lasted and then adds up the charges.

"Thanks to the numbering plan, all the caller has to do is spin the dial a few extra times."

Greenhalgh said more detailed dialing instructions will be given to telephone customers as the direct distance dialing project nears completion.

Construction of the new building is expected to take about 22 months.

Famous Golfer Espinosa Dies

Al Espinosa of Lafayette, one of the world's top golfers, died at the Veterans Administration Hospital in Oakland last Friday after a lengthy illness. He was 64 years old.

Rosary was recited Sunday night at the Little Chapel of the Flowers, Walnut Creek. Farewell services were conducted there that evening by American Legion Post 115 of Walnut Creek, of which Espinosa was a member.

Requiem High Mass was celebrated Monday morning at St. Mary's Catholic Church in Walnut Creek. Interment followed at the family plot in the Catholic cemetery at Monterey, where Espinosa's father, Abel, and mother, Placida, are buried.

SURVIVORS include Espinosa's wife, Josephine; his stepdaughter, Mrs. Leonard Ford of 3362 Johnson Road, Lafayette, with whom he made his home the past several years; two sisters, Mrs. Antoinette Spiegler and Mrs. Lulu de la Torre, both of Monterey, and four brothers — Abe Espinsoa of Morro Bay, Romie and Henry Espinosa of San Francisco and Ray Espinosa of La Jolla.

Pallbearers were Mayor E. C. Counter Jr. and City Attorney John Nejedly of Walnut Creek, Darrell Theobald of Walnut Creek, Bert Herrick and William Holliday of Lafayette and Walter Breen of Oakland.

ESPINOSA was at the height of his golfing career along with such "greats" as Bobby Jones, with whom he tied for the National Open Championship in 1929; Leo Diegel, with whom he was a finalist in the Professional Golfers Association Championhip in 1928; Walter Hagen, Gene Sarazen and Johnny Farrell.

Orinda families who have not been previously called upon by personal solicitation will be contacted by these teams within the next 10 days.

The 10 teams will be assisted wherever necessary by a special team comprising Melvin Jacobus. Walter Boysen, Dick Breuner and Perc Brown. the general chairman of the Building Fund.

Brown revealed this week that audits reported that $29,968.97 had been received and deposited for the Building Fund as of October 31. 1956.

There were also pledges totaling $26,163.31 in the fund as of that date.

"Substantial progress has been made in the drive," Brown said. "but a great deal remains to be done.

"It would be very helpful if those pledges who are delinquent in payments would bring them up to schedule.

"It would materially help the community effort if the approximately 1,000 Orinda families who were called upon and did not subscribe were to conclude that they wish to do something to help the drive," he declared.

Deputy Lands in Shocking Trap

Deputy Sheriff P. R. Donaldson foound himself in a rather shocking position for several minutes Wednesday evening.

He sat trapped in his car on El Toyonal while thousands of volts of electricity circulated around him through the wires that encircled the auto.

Donaldson, who lives at 87 Loma Vista, Orinda, fell into his high-voltage trap about 7:30 p.m. when his car sideswiped an already loose utility pole on El Toyonal at Canyon Drive.

With a brilliant spray of sparks, the wires came tumbling over the startled deputy's vehicle.

When the Orinda Fire Department arirved on the scene a few minutes later, the enmeshed 58-year-old Donaldson was still a bit shocked. . . but mentally, not physically.

He was talking calmly to the firemen when Pacific Gas and Electric Company turned off the power in the area to allow the rescuers to free him.

It was no mean chore for PG&E to right the wires and restore the power. Area residents were forced to use candlelight until 4 a.m. Thursday, when things settled back to normal.

Woman Gassed In Freak Phone Booth Accident

A Martinez woman narrowly escaped asphyxiation as she made a phone call from a booth at the Mobil Gas Station at 25 Orinda Highway Wednesday morning.

Mrs. Eula Sturgill, a bus driver for the Acalanes High School District, was phoning her Acalanes office when the fumes from a parked school bus which was warming up nearby poured into the booth.

Orinda buses of the Acalanes district, along with the bus of the Eastshore Lines of Oakland which shot the monoxide gas into the phone booth, park overnight in the station.

The exhaust pipe of the Oakland carrier, which transports Orinda children to a parochial school, was pointed toward the booth as the driver let the motor run preparatory to starting.

Cliff Adams, attendant at the gas station, telephoned the Orinda Fire Department when Mrs. Sturgill tumbled out of the booth, overcome by monoxide poisoning.

He placed a blanket over her until firemen arrived with a resuscitator.

Mrs. Sturgill was taken by ambulance to the Kaiser Hospital in Walnut Creek for treatment. She was released with no serious effects.

The Oakland driver pulled out without noticing the commotion and proceeded on his morning pickup.

Bond Details to Be Told Moms

Members of the Orinda Women's Club will meet at 8 p.m. Monday in the Glorietta School to hear details of the $950,000 bond issue which voters will decide January 22.

Explaining the issue to the club will be Carl Meurk, an Orinda School District trustee.

A question and answer period on this issue and other problems in the school district will follow. President Mrs. C. V. Scarich will preside.

After the business meeting, refreshments will be served by Mesdames John Everett, Paul Fanning Jr., W. F. Funk and Marvin Glardy.

The club's Evening Bridge Section will meet at 8 p.m. Thursday at the home of Mrs. Walker W. Edmunds Jr., 144 Meadow Lane.

Pebble Beach Rest

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Stafford, of 3376 St. Mary's Road, Lafayette, were recent guests at Del Monte Lodge, where they enjoyed a short vacation at Pebble Beach, Calif.

Burglars Loot 3 Orinda Homes

A juvenile is believed to be responsible for at least two of the three burglaries committed in Orinda over last weekend, according to sheriff's deputies.

Approximately $90 in silver dollars and other coin was taken from the bedroom of the George F. Hartzell home, 24 Loma Linda Court.

The owner, a dental instrument manufacturer, reported Saturday morning that an unlocked sliding door to the house had been entered, and the bedroom ransacked either Friday night or early Saturday.

The other two breakins were committed Saturday evening, in both instances while accupants were out for the evening.

Anthony Buljan, 46 Valley View Drive, discovered on his return that the screen on a rear bedroom window had been forced and the house ransacked in an apparent search for money.

Sheriff's Inspector Norman A. Wilson of the Walnut Creek substation reported that no loss had been discovered.

However, at the home of Fred Brown, 40 Oak Drive, the prowler forced a screen door, broke a small hole in a glass pane on the main door, and reached inside to unlock it.

In ransacking the home, the culprit took a watch valued at $82 but ignored other valued objects.

Association to Elect Officers

Officers for 1957 will be elected by the Orinda Association board at its 7:30 p.m. meeting Monday at Orinda School.

Newly elected Directors Norman Cunningham, Fred Twining, Dorothy Adie and Arthur Flint will be welcomed to the board.

They will join holdover Directors Claire Ward, Gene Estes, Marvin Baker, Bob Walpole and Holland DuBois and Director-at-Large Mel Arighi, the outgoing president, in leading the association during the coming year.

Big-Leaguers Will Teach Area Boys in Two Clinics!

High school boys and eighth-graders will learn their skills from a bunch of major-leaguers in a few weeks when the annual baseball clinics get under way in Walnut Creek and Lafayette.

Sponsored by The Sun and Sports and Games, Walnut Creek, and organized by Mel Alamano, the clinics will have instructors like Ferris Fain, Bill Rigney, Don Ferrarese, Bill Raimondi, Ray Robb, Vince DiMaggio, Bernie deViveriros, Damon Hayes.

THESE top-rankers, or former greats of baseball have told Mel that they will be glad to give the boys first-hand instruction and demonstrations on diamond-savvy. Mel is lining up others too.

A clinic will be held at the Las Lomas High School diamond for Walnut Creek boys, and Pleasant Hill boys, too.

Another clinic will be held at Acalanes High School for Lafayette and Orinda boys.

Signups will begin next week when The Sun will publish a coupon which can be filled out and mailed with name, address, age and position desired to learn.

NO PREVIOUS experience in the game is necessary, said Mel.

Each clinic will have two sessions of two hours each. No definite dates have been set, but they will be on Sundays, perhaps January 27, February 3, February 10, or there abouts.

The scheduling will have to take into consideration the fact that many of the players and scouts must report to their teams by the middle of next month.

Mel said, "The boys will be taught points of the game like standing, pitching, fielding and batting.

"THEY WILL get a talk all together in both clinics, and then they will go to their respective positions where they will be shown just how to act, and to do a good job.

"Sliding is a real art. Very few players outside the pros know just how to do it. Bernie deViveriros of the Detroit Tigers teaches members of his team how, and we expect he will do it at the clinic," Mel continued enthusiastically.

"We don't mean to leave out the boys under the eighth grades, and will have clinics for them later. And they can come to these clinics and watch if they want to," he added.

Mel has been working for three years to get his "big league" clinic into action. He has been conducting regular clinics in the past for local boys.

HE HAS HAD the encouragement of Virge Butler, Las Lomas High coach, and Irv Mattson, Acalanes coach. They will be at the sessions.

"The guys to thank are those big-timers. There's nothing they won't do for young fellows interested in the game," Mel declared.

Ray Robb and DeViveriros are scouts for the Tigers, Ferrarese is an ace pitcher for the Baltimore Orioles and a Walnut Creek resident; Raimondi is a former manager of the Oakland Oaks and Chicago Cubs.

Hayes pitched for Oakland; Fain has retired from the Cleveland Indians and has a business in Oakland; Rigney is manager of the New York Giants.

Those Gaels Will Gallop To Thrill Kids, Adults!

When the Galloping Gaels of St. Mary's College and the Lions of Loyola University of Los Angeles clash on the basketball court in the St. Mary's gym in Moraga the night of February 1, there'll be plenty of action, thrills and cheers, of course.

But many of the cheers will be from fans with a special zest — young people. Hundreds of them are expected to be there as guests at The Sun's Father-and-Children Night.

This is a community project sponsored by The Sun in cooperation with St. Mary's College.

WITH THE COUPON appearing in this issue of The Sun (or in future issues up to the time of the event) a father (or mother) can take, without charge, as many youngsters up to the age of 16 as he (or she) wishes to take to the game.

The adult will pay the special bargain price of only $1 for his ticket (instead of the usual $1.25).

Some 700 seats have been reserved for The Sun's Father-and-Children Night crowd. They will be occupied on a first-come, first-served basis.

All the adult has to do is to show up at the box office before the 8 p.m. game time, present the coupon (with the number of youngsters written on it) and then troop into the gym with his youthful charges.

OF COURSE, it'll be a good idea to get there early, since the top-flight collegiate basketball to be offered by the St. Mary's and Loyola athletes is almost certain to attract a large audience.

In addition to the fast-action quintets, ther'll be music entertainment. The 50-piece band of St. Mary's College High School, Berkeley, will perform before the 8 p.m. tipoff and during halftime.

So, dads (and mothers, too), just clip out the coupon, take the youngsters to the St. Mary's gym the night of February 1 — and enjoy a real family or group "outing" which will have plenty of fun and excitement.

Sun Subscription Will Send $1 to Hungarians

Residents of Walnut Creek, Pleasant Hill, Orinda and Lafayette can buy a year's subscription to The Sun, and know that $1 of their money will go directly to the United Nations Refugee Fund for Hungarians fleeing Russian control.

Publisher Herman Silverman announced that $1 of each $3.75 subscription will be sent to the American Association for the United Nations, Inc., San Francisco.

This will enable new readers to receive The Sun for a full year, and at the same time have the satisfaction of serving a good cause without added cost.

The satisfaction is also The Sun's. Any cash loss is made up by higher circulation, we must admit. But we also will experience the good-feeling of helping provide Hungarians in Austrian reception centers with food, clothing, warmth and clean clothes.

Subscriptions will be taken at 12 Vivian Drive, Pleasant Hill, MU 2-4400; 1320 Locust Street, Walnut Creek, YE 4-5000, or 1000 Orchard Road, Lafayette, AT 4-4444.

There are nearly 150,000 refugees in Austria who need help. Every cent contributed to United Nations Refugee Fund goes directly and in its entirety for that purpose.

Lucas' Head Dimes March; 'Finish Fight,' They Ask

They are going to do it again. Mr. and Mrs. Dan Lucas have accepted the chairmanship for the March of Dimes drive for the Orinda-Moraga-Canyon area.

Referring to the Salk anti-polio vaccine, Mrs. Lucas said yesterday:

"We've worked for this day—now we are going to finish the fight."

MRS. LUCAS attended a conference for the March of Dimes at Reno, Nev., recently. One of her remarks after that meeting was:

"If every person in our area had polio shots, we could wipe polio out."

Dan Lucas added, "This year we must remember the people for whom the Salk vaccine came too late."

BOYD EDELIN of 19 Valley View Road is chairman of the Fathers' March committee, and Joseph Pardini of 26 Marston Road is his assistant.

Both men have commented on how the willingness of people to help.

"Every person we have asked to help us has been more than willing to do his part," Pardini said.

"OUR AREA is growing so fast and there is so much territory to cover that we will need all the help we can get to make our March a success," Edelin stressed. "If you want to help, please call either Mrs. Lucas at CL 4-3596, Pardini at CL 4-2473 or me at CL 4-2034."

"The local Fathers' March will be on January 31," Mrs. Lucas said.

"As in the past, we are planning our usual get-to-gether at the Orinda Union School that evening to watch our dimes roll in. There will be refreshments and coffee served by the Santa Maria Women's Guild.

"We are extending our invitation early to all residents to come on down and watch our dimes roll into dollars."

Orinda First Baby of '57 Title Shared by Twin Girls

Two petite little girls share the title, "Orinda's First Baby of 1957," and are winners of The Sun's annual Rirst Baby of the Year contest.

But the gifts and prizes awarded to the pair of charmers, donated by Orinda merchants, will remain in the same family.

THE YEAR'S earliest arrivals are the twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Drew Mullan, of 5 Northwood Drive. Named Leigh Anne and Laurie Jeanne, the girls arrived in the wee hours of January 4 at Herrick Hospital, Berkeley.

Leigh and Laurie tipped the scales at 5 pounds 8 ounces and 4 pounds 13½ ounces, respectively.

Strictly speaking, Leigh Anne was the first 1957 addition to Orinda's population, giving her first cry at 4:05 a.m. But her sister came into the world just seven minutes later, and so took a share of the spotlight.

WAITING AT HOME to welcome the newcomers was their older sister, 21-month-old Karen, who was also born at Herrick.

Mr. and Mrs. Mullen moved to Orinda in October of last year from Oakland. The twins' daddy is an order correspondent for Armco Drainage and Metal Products.

Their mom was proud as could be of her new daughters.

"THE FIRST BABY of the Year award was really a surprise," she smiled, "but I'm very happy about it. We're very proud of the girls and they're doing just fine."

Everything from diapers to rattles were given in honor of the babies.

Contributing merchants were:

Black's Market, T&D Liquors at Black's Market, Bing's Shaver Shop and Burger Broiler, Moraga Valley Nursery, Orinda Jewelry, Orinda Hardware, ORINDA BEAUTY Shoppe, Orinda Pharmacy, Orinda Pixie Shop, Phair's Orinda Store, Village Shoe Shop, Heaven to Eleven, Rheem Center, and The Orinda Sun.

Arriving just a few hours too late for the honors was the 6 pound 13 ounce daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Grafft, who was born at 9:03 a.m. January 4 at Alta Bates Hospital, Berkeley.

Year's 'First Puppy' Born At Lemire Home

Chocolate, the half French poodle and half Labrador dog belonging to the Leo C. Lemire family of 10 Tappan Court, Orinda, apparently decided she wasn't going to be eclipsed in all this excitement about First Babies of the Year.

So on New Year's Eve, in the couple of hours before midnight, she gave birth to three black puppies. Then at 12:01 a.m. New Year's Day she gave birth to a light brown puppy. And in the next couple of hours four more black pups were born; one of these died later but all the other seven puppies were thriving, at latest reports.

The light brown puppy—a male named Fudge—"is no doubt the First Puppy of the Year in this area," 14-year-old Pat Lemire said happily.

Sharing in the pleasure were Pat's sister, Maureen, 4, and her two brothers, John, 12, and Paul, 8.

Chocolate is the special pet of Pat, who is a freshman at Miramonte High School.

Whose special pet will Fudge be?

"I guess we'll all share him," Pat observed.

Chocolate, 3 years old, goes off once in a while on hunting trips with Mr. Lemire. But right now she's busy with her brood.

Winter Turned On Full Blast

Stalled cars, heated furnaces and bemuffed residents spotted the local scene this week as the weatherman triumphantly proclaimed that winter was here in force.

Things got too chilly even for the faithful weatherbird, who packed his bags and seeds and headed for warmer climes.

With good reason, too. Wednesday night the mercury dropped to a freezing 23. A 59 on Sunday was the best it could do for the weatherweek.

The long drought was broken this week, however, and the moisture brought joy to many. Just .21 inches fell, bringing the total since July 1 to 5.23 inches. The week's report is:

	High	Low
January 3	56	31
January 4	50	32
January 5	56	36
January 6	59	27
January 7	57	29
January 8	50	34
January 9	49	23

Rev. Hill Dies In Las Vegas

The Rev. Charles M. Hill, 51, former vicar of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, Orinda, died suddenly of a heart attack in Las Vegas, Nevada, Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. Hill, who left St. Stephen's in November, 1955, to become rector of Christ Episcopal Church in Las Vegas, was the first permanent vicar at St. Stephen's.

Memorial services will be held at 11 a.m. today at St. Stephen's. The Rev. Henry Getz of St. Paul's Episcopal Church of San Rafael will officiate, assisted by the Rev. Albert Lucas, who succeeded Mr. Hill as vicar at St. Stephen's.

Burial was to be at Tyler, Tex., Mr. Hill's birthplace.

In Las Vegas, Mr. Hill was active in a huge expansion program for Christ Church.

Survivors include his wife, Margaret Sue, and their three children — Jimmy, 22, Judy, 16 and Donald, 12.

Mr. Hill came to St. Stephen's in September, 1952, after having been at the Trinity Episcopal Church in Victoria, Texas, for eight years.

When he came to Orinda the St. Stephen's congregation was holding services at the Orinda Community Church.

Ground for the present picturesque English country - style St. Stephen's Church building was broken in August, 1953. Dedication was in March, 1954.

St. Stephen's Church is at 12 Via Las Cruces.

UNDER MR. HILL'S leadership the St. Stephen's congregation made big advances.

Communicant strength grew from 55 to 373 individuals (198 families). Church school enrollment increased from 70 to 432. Acolytes increased from three to 30. The Choir grew four to 25 members, and a new Junior Choir of 30 members was formed.

The Young People's Fellowship enlarged its rolls from eight to 35 members, and regular Sunday evening meetings were held.

New church school curriculum and training of church school teachers were provided under Mr. Hill's direction.

UNDER HIS LEADERSHIP a successful drive was conducted to raise funds for the new church building.

Doctors, Public Invited To New Therapy Center

Physicians of Contra Costa County and the East Bay area attended the first two days of the three-day open house at the newly completed Mt. Diablo Therapy Center, at 100 Golf Club Road, Pleasant Hill, Wednesday and yesterday.

All local residents are invited to attend the final day of the open house today from 2 to 4 p.m. and from 7 to 9 p.m.

During the first two days the physicians inspected the new Therapy Center plant completed last month at a cost of $150,000 on about four acres and situated almost opposite the East Contra Costa Junior College.

According to the Medical Advisory Committee of the Center, the new facilities now provide the finest and most modern equipment for those who need care because of orthopedic and other physical and speech disabilities.

A staff of qualified physical, occupational and speech therapists is employed to serve those patients who are now referred to the Center by their own physicians.

This is done only upon medical referral and by consultation with the patient's physician and with frquent progress reports to him by Center therapists.

At the open house, the director, medical staff members and the physical, occupational and speech therapists and medical social workers of the Center answered questions and outlined the program.

On hand to greet the friends of the Center today will be Mrs. John Dorr, president of the Orinda Orioles; Mrs. Stanley Majka, president of the Tanagers; Mrs. Ralph Ligon, Larks of Lafayette; Mrs. Robert L. Martin, of the Robins, and Mrs. William Evens of the Hummingbirds.

Motor Vehicles Office Deadline Is February 4

With about three weeks left for registration of automobiles in California, Marshall Turner, manager of the new Department of Motor Vehicles office on Second Avenue, Walnut Creek, said that that applications have been coming in slowly.

Turner said that the new office is about 100 feet west of Main Street, and just behind the Mohawk Service Station on Second Avenue.

"We expect to register about 15 to 20,000 vehicles by February 4 deadline, but that figure is hard to estimate since the office is new," he said.

"Our pre-punch cards are being mailed out third class this year, and so cannot be forwarded to a new address.

"So, any driver who has changed residence may bring his 1956 white slip to the office before February 4, and he will receive his new registration," Turner added.

The branch office is also open for driver license service. Full tests are given there, and drivers licenses are issued.

The hours are 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday to Friday.

Until February 2, the office will also be open Saturdays from 8 a.m. to 12 noon.

ORINDA'S MARCH OF DIMES is now under way. Chairmen of the 1957 local anti-polio fund drive are again Mr. and Mrs. Dan Lucas. They are shown with John Sheridan (right), county March of Dimes chairman, at the recent kickoff dinner for volunteer workers in the county campaign.

Teenager Club Preps for Tomorrow's 'Icicle Hop'

Members of the newly-formed teenage club of the Orinda Recreation Program will spend a good part of tomorrow hauling trees and tinsel into the auditorium at the Pine Grove School.

They'll be preparing for their big dance, the "Icicle Hop," the club's first social activity which will be held tomorrow night from 8 p.m. to midnight.

SOME 60 Christmas trees will line the walls, and tinsel and ribbons will carry out the dance's winter theme in the auditorium.

Close to 60 charter members of the club have been selling bids to their friends and classmates for the past few weeks, but President Gary Lucas has announced that all Orinda teenagers can get their tickets at the door.

Admission to the sports dance will be 50 cents, stag or drag.

UNDER LUCAS, who is general chairman of the dance, the decorating committee comprises Judy Roberts, Trent Pridemore, Bill Hilger, Susan Schwatka, Linday McLane and Don McCloud.

Handling refreshments will be Lucas, Bill Klement, Bob Davis and club Treasurer Klint Danna.

Judy Roberts is in charge of bids, and Bob Neuman has made arrangements for the music.

THE CLUB, which is open to all Miramonte High School students, met last night with Recreation Director Frank Isola to make final preparations for the big festivities.

That meeting, like all previous teenage club meetings, was followed by an hour of volleyball, basketball and other recreational activities in the Pine Grove gym.

With members of the club plotting their own course of activities, proceeds from the dance will help to finance a trip to the snow in February.

EVENTUALLY, according to Isola, the club will be split into two divisions — sophomore and freshman. But for the time being, all activities wil include both classes.

Meanwhile, Orinda adults are also taking advantage of the wide-spread activities the Recreation Program is offering.

FOLK AND SQUARE dancers, or potential dancers, will have a chance to practice their squares and twirls Monday night at a dance class to be conducted from 8 to 10 p.m. at Pine Grove.

Jack Clark will call the turns.

"The Recreation Program is really getting rolling in this new year," Isola said enthiusiastically. "Now that the holidays are over we look forward to wonderful participation of local people."

Christian Science

The answer to mankind's great need of purity and regeneration will be emphasized at Christian Science services this Sunday.

Christian Science churches in this area are located at 22 Orinda Highway, Orinda, and 1347 Locust Street, Walnut Creek. Christian Science Society of Pleasant Hill holds it services at the Hillchest Congregational Church on Gregory Lane.

Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon on "Sacrament" is the Golden Text from Psalms (24:3 4): "Who shall ascend into the hill of the Lord? Or who shall stand in his holy place? He that hath clean hands, and a pure heart; who hath not lifted up his soul unto vanity, nor sworn deceitfully."

Selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following (241: 23-27): "One's aim, a point beyond faith, should be to find the footsteps of Truth, the way to health and holiness. We should strive to reach the Horeb height where God is revealed; and the corner-stone of all spiritual building is purity."

Housewife's Odyssey

Like lots of people we know, we LOVE to sleep LATE. And we do! But last Sunday, to rout ourselves out of bed at the rugged hour of 4:30 a.m., it was necessary to set off a series of synchronized phone calls and alarm clocks that would have won us great respect from Rube Goldberg.

THIS RUDE AWAKENING system facilitated our punctilious presence at the S.F. International Airport from whence we flew off to the Comstock Lode country to be behind the scenes when CBS premiered their new ODYSSEY series with a live telecast, "The Story of Virginia City."

With a toothbrush, Tums, and an extra pair of shoes tucked into our feedbag, we took off on this journalists's junket with a contingent of cameramen and columnists that included Terrence O'Flaherty in a green snowcap left over from his recent Alaskan hop with Bob Hope.

Since Virginia City has contributed much to history as well as to mining techniques, the California Academy of Sciences was represented by amiable Benjamin Draper, executive producer of the Academy's "Science in Action" and "Explorers of Tomorrow," who acted as coordinator and historical advisor on the premiere . . . Dr. Robert C. Miller, Director of the California Academy of Sciences, and his charming tall and regal wife were hosts aboard the plane in behalf of the cooperating American Association of Museums.

A five-year phobia about flying was quickly dispelled as we flew over the pine-studded Sierras, seen through the sun and covered with a light blanket of freshly-fallen snow. Tahoe took on the appearance of a frosted Daquiri.

THE ROUGHEST part of the trip, we were later to discover, was the bouncing stride necessary to crossing the sagging floorboards of the antiquated Piper's Opera House, where Beatrice Kay proved herself a real trooper by belting out her songs from the stage wearing a brief costume while her legs were turning blue from cold. After the telecast, the singer of Gay Ninety ballads wrapped herself in a worn woolen North Star number to receive freezy handshakes and hugs outside.

It happened at the 'Bucket of Blood'

It was SO cold that the furry white orlon coat we were wearing was twice mis-taken for a stray polar bear. And it served to save a leg for us when quite by accident in the setting of the sumptuous saloon, The Bucket of Blood, we stepped on the tail of Mr. Beebe's sizeable St. Bernard. The dog groaned loudly, looked at the coat and fled, leaving us with a hank of dog hair underfoot and still two fairly admirable legs unmaimed.

The cape-coated and brocade-vested Lucius Beebe, erstwhile Bon Vivant turned historian and publisher, shared greeting duties with his editor and colleague Charles Clegg. We were presented with several copies of the Territorial Enterprise, their nifty little tongue-in-cheek newspaper which achieved fame as the literary birthplace of Mark Twain.

VIRGINIA CITY was, on approach, like a ghost town from a Hollywood set . . . Everybody was indoors rehearsing except for a few cinema-town cowboys and their steeds . . . A fleet of CBS trucks, miles of cables and camera cars lined the streets . . . The old houses perched precariously on the hillsides, the famous old landmarks looking near collapse. We had promised the kids souvenirs and the cigar store Indian, reading our mind, gave us a very fierce look which sent us scurrying into the Silver Dollar Hotel. Here, while we toasted our toes in front of a Ben Franklin burner, we got the word. Two words. "NO WATER!"

This is what impressed us most about Virginia City. That Hollywood and New York had cut a path to its door and there had been no water supply whatsoever since Christmas Day. Plenty of saloons and liquid refreshment. But NO WATER.

Champagne for a shower bath?

Later on at the reception, where demi-johns or distilled water kept things going, we heard the plight of the townspeople over and over again. (Someone mistook us for AP from N.Y.!) We listened and sympathized and hope somebody goes to bat for the poor residents whose least concern in this crisis is that they have to venture 12 miles to Reno at bathtime. Since Mr. Beebe is accustomed to Life in the Grand Manner, we suspect he might be taking champagne-showers at this point.

We sat in on the dress rehearsal, amazed at the split-second timing of the director and producers who must be near-genius . . . The TV crew attired in ski clothes . . . the ladies' old-time costumes flaunted full-length flannels underneath . . . The host ad narrator, Charles Collingwood, as nice as he is handsome . . . A familiar face was Dick Elliott, roly-poly veteran movie star of 30 years . . . Vasilav Nijinsky's daughter directed the dancing group, acted several scenes.

To catch the continuity of the show, we went to the court house for the live telecast along with a SRO crowd and marveled at the flawlessness of the program, remembering the maze of wires and whatnot strung and hung throughout the streets; the switching back and forth of scenes. We'll leave the TV-reviewing to those more capable, but just for the record, will vouch that there were tears in the eyes of old-timers as they watched, and this should satisfy CBS's concern for authenticity.

ODYSSEY is fine family entertainment. 1 p.m. on a Sunday afternoon is a good time to soak up some of the story of mankind's achievement in all fields of culture. Future Odysseys will explore underwater wonders through the Smithsonian Institute, the story of the ancient Roman soldier, the era of wooden ships, the Samurai paradox of Japan, etc.

A parting note on our own ODYSSEY to the famed city which had its brief glory from 1869 to 1908 because of a vein of silver. Back in 1880, the city had a spell without water, too. But it was a WEEK before anybody even knew it! Things are somewhat different NOW!

They rang out the old together

NEW YEAR'S NOTES . . . Suburbanites preferred to remain close to home for the Biggest Night of the Year and neighborhood parties fluorished. To name a few . . . Walter and Jean Courson flung a Farewell to '56 party at their Hall Drive home w/Ann and Bob Grant sharing co-host honors . . . The Wayne Bentleys, Joe Downs, Mildred and Scat Laws some of the late stayer-uppers here, the Downs having come over from the country club party.

Another hailing of '57, over on Crestview Dr. at the Gil Earles w/the Bill Woods and Harry Booths, the Gordon Smiths and Fran and Joe Dirickx joining out-of-town friends of the Earles for the fun! In the perfect-for-a-party Room at the Virginia Drive home of Paul and Ardyce Handlery auld-lang-syned the Paul Moores, Jack Wallings, Bill Keatings, Ed Landwehrs and the John Raffenellis, not to mention the Ward Huntingtons and Charles Curriers, who conceived anew the costly custom of chucking the champagne glasses into the fireplace following the traditional toasting.

OVER ON HACIENDA CIRCLE, serpentine and confetti engulfed friends of Don and Joan Zappetini . . . The Gordon Martins, George Redmonds, Dave Seaburys were present for the midnight buffet, Bud and Pat Loughman and the George Krusis coming in late from earlier festivities in Berkeley.

AMONG THOSE attending the Orinda Country Club celebration, a crowd that cocktailed together earlier at the Snowberry Lane residence of the Robert Hamptons . . . In the dinner party were the Robert Boyles, Harry Pecks, William Witters over from Belvedere, the Dan Carters and the Joe Downs as previously mentioned, the cast on Jean's foot in no way hampering her holiday fun!

Small world, surprise, eh?

The John Dorrs returned from a nine-day holiday in their Navion plane down Mexico way just in time to join friends at the John Stahle's New Year's party . . . Everyone interested in their fabulous flying-around-fun where they waterskied at Acapulco, fished at Mazatlan, and somewhat startled Orinda realtor John Loop and his wife whom they surprised in Taxco when John Dorr, in a thick spanish accent, approached Loop from behind with an inquiry to "buying a lot een Oreenda." Mary's stunning dress sprinkled with hand-sewn sequins was the hit of the party at the Stahles, and purchased in Mexico for 100 pesos, or just eight dollars in our money!

BRAVER THAN MOST, The Ritchie Wards journeyed to Marin on NY's Eve, celebrated the next day in Menlo Park . . . Maureen and Ray Huddacheck drove down to the Rose Bowl game in their MGK, taking their young son along.

Among holiday week parties . . . the dressy cocktail affair given by Jim and Nancy Dupuis in their Sleepy Hollow home . . . the Open House by the William Thurstons,—were Christmas cards decked the stairwell and entry and hung from a handsome high madrone branch . . . The Avrahom Yedidia's Christmas party on Dec. 22 before they ducked down South for New Year's . . . The brunch given by the Jack Coopers, who served Panckaes Oscar to a score of sleepy headed friends on NY's Day, the pancakes OSCAR having made a hit w/Leslie when concocted by the Fairmont's Chef for the previous Sunday's Brunch party put on by Chrysler preceding the East-West Game, which the couple also attended.

All Schools to Donate Talent to 'Absurdia Jr.'

It's Absurdia time in Orinda again — j.g.

Next Tuesday night the Orinda Mothers Club sponsors the 1957 version of Absurdia Junior, the faculty-student talent show that last year left standing room only.

Set for 7:30 in the Pine Grove School Auditorium, this will be the first general meeting of the year for the Mothers Club.

Frank Isola, recently chosen Orinda's Man of the Year, will be master of ceremonies, and each of the schools has promised ten minutes of fast-paced entertainment.

Also on Tuesday's agenda is a brief explanation of the school bond and tax proposals to be voted on the following Tuesday, January 22.

Committee chairmen for the Mothers Club Spring Dance on March 9 have recently been announced by Mrs. H. Caldwell, general chairman.

Working with Mrs. Caldwell on arrangements will be:

Mrs. Abe Doty, assistant chairman; Mrs. R. L. Kocher, business manager; Mrs. William Scatina and Mrs. James Read, decorations; Mrs. Dick Dildine, entertainment; Mrs. Robert Thaman, publicity; Mrs. Richard Copenhagen, refreshments; and Mrs. Miles Hudson, raffle.

'Silver' Fetes 75th Birthday

It was nearly dawn on Sunday when the strains of guitar and accordion music finally came to an end and Mrs. Helena Wilson said goodnight to the last guest at her own silver jubilee.

The surprise birthday party was neatly plotted by Mrs. Marjorie Lundin, whose husband Carl is Mrs. Wilson's son.

Held at the Lundin home on Donna Maria Way in Orinda, which was decorated in silver, in keeping with the "75th" theme, the affair brought together more than 40 of Mrs. Wilson's close friends from all around the Bay.

Sharing in the preparations were Mrs. Wilson's daughter, Mrs. Howard Doolittle, and her husband, also of Donna Maria Way, who took their mother out to dinner while the guests assembled.

Mrs. Wilson's two other sons and their families also attended — Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lundin of Burlingame with sons Bobby and Billy, and Mr. and Mrs. Gene Lundin of Danville and their son Gene Jr. with his wife.

Mrs. Wilson, a native of Sweden, lived for more than five decades in San Francisco before coming to Orinda four years ago to make her home with the Carl Lundins.

Mrs. Wilson is a member of the Lafayette Presbyterian Church and the Order of the Eastern Star.

Sewer Directors Set Deadline for Free Connections

Residents of local improvement districts 1 through 23 have until July 1 to take advantage of Ordinance No. 22, directors of the Central Contra Costa Sanitary District have decided.

The recently revised ordinance originally provided that property owners in these districts were not required to pay a connection charge for tying into the sanitary district's sewers, since those areas were already established.

Under the revised terms of the ordinance residents of local districts 1 through 23 not now connected to district sewers will be charged the standard connection fee for any connections after July 1.

The move was made to make the connection charge formula uniformly applicable throughout the entire district.

Around Acalanes . . .

By JERRY MORIARTY

The Christmas holidays have come to a close for another year, and a "round" of parties and dances has concluded with them.

These included the Diablo Assembly on December 27 and numerous New Year's Eve parties and open houses.

THE GRINDSTONE

Everyone isalmost settled back into the usual routine of school, having just completed the first full week of studying this year. Things have not been completely normal, though.

Every freshman and junior at Acalanes (also at Las Lomas and Miramonte) has spent almost four hours a day taking the Iowa tests. Freshmen and juniors have taken these tests on alternate days in the lunch room and cafeteria.

Avid snow enthusiasts are working out the final details on their impending ski trip. It will be their first trip of the season on the weekend of January 18.

Believe it or not, The Don, our literary magazine, will be completed before long. Due to circumstances beyond the editor's control, it was unable to come out before the Christmas vacation.

It is hoped by The Don staff, though, that the student body will not lose interest in the magazine because of the delay, for it still promises to be full of good stories and articles.

CASABA CUTIES

Tuesday at noon in the gym the tremendous basketball team consisting of senior girls confronted the faculty team. A hard fought battle ensued, following the rules of girls' basketball.

Also in keeping with the regular noon volleyball games played every Thursday, seniors once again take on the freshmen.

There are five teams, consisting of both boys and girls, which make up the noon volleyball league. The teams are freshman, junior, sophomore, senior and faculty, and have participated in this activity throughout most of the fal season.

The freshman class is actively planning their annual dance, which is to be next Friday. As far as can be concluded form publicity, the dance will follow a snow theme.

The Spanish Honorary Society put on a cake sale Wednesday which was very successful. The money will go towards spring projects and activities which have been planned by the group.

COURT DOINGS

The basketball A and B teams played John Swett at Acalanes Tuesday afternoon, and the J. V. team confronted Las Lomas on Thursday. There is still another game this week you can see if you missed the other ones.

Both the A and B basketball teams are set to play an exciting game tonght with Las Lomas at Acalanes. Let's everyone get out and support the team!

Garden Group to Discuss Azaleas

The Garden Section of the Lafayette Women's Club will hold it's meeting Tuesday at 1 p.m. at the home of the club's president, Mrs. George Pedersen, 1125 Glen Road, Lafayette.

Subject of the talk, to be given to the group by Mr. and Mrs. Shozo Ogawa of San Ramon, will be azaleas, their varieties and culture.

Refreshments will be served following the discussion.

Mrs. Harry A. Hanson, section chairman, will have tickets to sell for the March 19 bus trip to the California Nursery at Niles and luncheon at the International House near by.

Orinda's Recreation Program Is Yours

Perhaps one of the finest recreation programs in this area is being undertaken in Orinda.

That may sound a bit on the superlative side — but a little reflection will convince one that there's nothing exaggerative about the statement.

One of the main reasons for the excellence of the local program is the fact that all age-groups are included.

And that comprehensiveness is a tribute to the thoroughness and farsightedness of Frank E. Isola, recreation and physical education director of the Orinda School District, and his staff, as well as to the Orinda School District itself.

Before discussing further the subject of responsibility and credit, we'd like to point to a few facts regarding recreation programs in general and in Orinda in particular.

Take teenage programs, for example. There's obviously a need for an adequate teenage program in our community, as well as in neighboring communities — and Orinda has taken a big step toward offering the local teenagers such a program.

But the local program doesn't stop there. It goes on to include adults, with such activities as volleyball and folk dancing included in the organized setup.

All this, of course, is in addition to the splendid program for younger children — a program which has been in operation for some time and which is constantly being improved.

To return to the subject of responsibility and credit, it is important to note that the Orinda School District, through its Board of Trustees, is making the expanded Orinda Recreation Program possible by sponsoring it.

The school district has the authority to levy a tax rate of up to 5 cents per $100 assessed valuation for recreational purposes — and the Orinda School District is actually levying a tax rate of 4.5 cents so that the expanded recreation program can function.

That means that the entire expanded recreation program stems from the people. The people — the taxpayers — authorize the program.

You, the taxpayers, are paying for this wonderful program. And you should make use of it — and so should your children.

Holidays Are Over -- But Not for Long

An air of serenity has settled over the community. Gone are the days of frantic shopping, elaborate decorations, and the series of midnight revels.

In other words, gone are the big holidays of 1956.

Gone but not forgotten! Folks will barely have time to recover from this end-of-the-year celebrations before the cycle of annual festivities begins revolving once again.

Of course, various holidays have various significance to various individuals. When your Roving Reporter querried his neighbors this week on what was the next major holiday to which they were looking forward, here's what he learned:

MRS. GEORGE B. WHEALEN, 3433 Moraga Boulevard, Lafayette: "I guess the next major holidays for us are our birthdays. Mine is in February, my husband's in April."

MRS. STANLEY E. SWANSON, 2 Camino Del Monte, Orinda: "Washington's Birthday is the next big one coming up for us. It's a three-day weekend which will let us get away for awhile."

MRS. LAWRENCE CANNING, 3404 Sweet Drive, Lafayette: "The next major holiday that's important to us is Easter. We don't pay too much attention to the president's birthdays because we like to take trips when the children have a longer period of time off from school."

MRS, JACK B. BERARD, 366 El Toyonal, Orinda: "I suppose Easter is the next big holiday for us. Of course, there are the president's birthdays, but they mean a holiday for the kids, not for me."

MRS. TOM McKENNON, 35 Circle Drive, Walnut Creek: "I really don't know of any holiday which we look forward to during the year as much as Christmas and New Year."

ARNOLD L. DOCHER, 56 Via Madrone, Pleasant Hill: "I think the children look forward to any holiday just to get a day off from school. I'm about the same way, only, it's a day off work."

MRS. J. K. HENRY, 3545 Francine Lane, Pleasant Hill: "I look forward to my children's birthdays I guess. I have three boys all born in February so I think I'm looking forward to that month."

FRED KRIMINIO, 478 Lawton Place, Walnut Creek: "I really haven't given the matter too much thought, but, I think that I look forward to the presidential inauguration. I think that is one of the outstanding events of any year."

Bridges, Ferryboats Offer Much Interest

By DOROTHY PATTERSON

ALL OF US IN MY FAMILY frequently get a great deal of pleasure in taking short rides out and around the countryside, ever looking for pleasant adventures, beautiful panoramas, good restaurants and clean rest rooms.

See, we usually have to take the children, too. We don't HAVE to take them, necessarily, but life just wouldn't be worth living if we didn't.

Into my parents' car we loaded all the arms and legs, dolls, extra coats, a football and a coloring book.

The latter item helps cope with situations that arise from boredom. It also lends itself to being torn apart more readily than does the upholstery or a brother or sister.

Drama at the toll gate

We had chosen to see just what our tax dollars had done for the new Richmond-San Rafael Bridge, and as we arrived at the toll gate my father noticed that business was not flourishing at the moment, so he gave the toll-taker a $20 bill. My father feels that if a man wants to earn a good, honest living he must work for it.

There was a mighty chipper nip in the air that day, and as the officer very politely handed back our endless change, it occurred to me that he did not necessarily appreciate my father's principles.

As it turned out, we didn't appreciate his bridge, either. C'est la vie and que serra. It isn't that we don't like the bridge, it's just that for 70 cents we planned on seeing a bit more than just clean concrete and very symmetrically placed rivets. After all, once you have seen a rivet you have seen them all, you know.

The railing is placed at such a level that you can see nothing else, and psychologically, I do believe the designers of that bridge have tampered with the lives of the impatient. Instead of driving more carefully because there is no view to distract them, most drivers will probably find themselves hastening to "cross over the bridge" in order to continue their reckless way of livin'.

That dip seems intriguing

In the middle of this structure there is a long, slow dip, which, from a woman driver's standpoint, serves no purpose whatsoever.

No doubt it became monotonous building the whole thing at one level, or it might have been more fun doing this instead of putting a curve there.

Who knows? We taxpayers seldom complain; we can barely afford to wonder.

Before you start up the ramp into this concrete oasis surrounded by riveted oblivion, you get one fast peek at three bulky ferryboats still workable but very sad as they rock and roll beside the old docks that are slowly being torn down all around them.

Fate of the new ferryboat

Never will they even be allowed to run betwixt Martinez and Benicia—a sad fate only recently bestowed upon a brand new little ferryboat, spanking new and shiny.

This new baby cost some mighty fund-loving taxpayers more than $160,000 and it will probably last forever.

For this $160,000 car barge dare I suggest the name "Toot Sweet"?

Letters to The Editor

Dear Editor:

The recent flood control bond issue for $9,875,000 has been twice rejocted by the voters. The reasons for this are not obvious to all, especially to the proponents.

The following reasons should clarify this matter.

The main channel lining would not relieve the flood waters that caused most of the damage to property in the 1955 December floods.

Direct damage to homes in the Cherry Valley district adjacent to Walnut Creek could have been prevented by clearing the channel of trees, and protecting levees. The levee on Walnut Creek that did break was repaired by Army Engineer funds for only $4500.

The lands that are endangered by valley surface water runoff lie between Sherman Field and along Monument road including the Four Corner Area on the South and Northward along Hiway 21 and 24 as far as Concord Avenue.

THIS AREA HAS a mean elevation of 38 feet above sea level, and will require levees and drainage ditches for adequate protection. Drainage pumps may also be required to pump out the rain water that falls within this area over the levees.

Such an undertaking should not cost over a million or a million and a half dollars.

The U.S. Corps of Engineers is presently working on a report on flood protection works on the main channel of Walnut Creek. If they find it economical to undertake such a program, they will undoubtedly pay for main channel works, while the Flood District would be required to furnish the right of way and to pay for enhancement values, also to undertake the off channel dainage works.

Such a program would save the District about six million dollars. Funds required for undertaking the levee work in low lying area between Concord and Pleasant Hill could be adequately financed with the direct tax of 20 cents per $100 dollar valuation.

ASSUMING THE present valuation of the 3B District to be $118,-140,000, a 20 cent tax would give $236,280 per year and with an estimated valuation of $221,400,000. In 1965 the total tax would be $442,800. The average tax for a 10 year period being $339,540 per year.

In 10 years this would give $3,395,000 which is adequate for the District requirements provided the Corps of Engineers pay for the main channel work.

In this manner no money would be wasted in interest and the total work would be done much cheaper since the savings in interest alone over that of the bond issue would be $8,622,840, which is a sum nearly as much as the bond issue.

In summary the following points are emphasized.

Let theh Corps of Engineers do the main channel work.

Have the Flood Control District build levees and drainage works for the low lying lands between Concord and Grayson Creek.

Let the city of Walnut Creek build adequate storm sewers to fit the Little Master Plan streets.

Let soil conservation be done by the Department of Agriculture.

Don't ask for any futher elections on bond issues until we have had a hearing on the Corps of Engineers' report this Spring.

Opposes Freeway

The State Division of Highways has received a request from the Oakland City Council to reconsider its proposed $56 million Grove-Shafter Freeway.

The council has passed a resolution asking the state engineers to "give further consideration to an alternate route."

Temescal and College Avenue district merchants and residents are opposing the proposed route, contending it would split the two business sections.

The resolution was addressed and delivered to Joseph P. Sinclair, acting assistant state highway engineer.

Under The Sun

Here Is a sports outing For the entire family . . .

By Herman Silverman

Last winter Eleanor and I took our three youngsters to the Cal-Stanford basketball game in the U.C. gym. It was an exciting game and our kids loved it—even Janet, who was then six years old. But the trip was quite a production. Seats sell out fast, so we arrived an hour-and-a-half early to purchase tickets—and then we ate out.

I began figuring where else we could see basketball. Almost every Friday night there is at least one good high school game somewhere in the area. (During the week, they are held in the afternoon.) High school basketball is high calibre, exciting and worthwhile. Check The Sun sports page for dope stories each week.

And we have college ball right in our own backyard. The Vikings of East Contra Costa Junior College play darn good ball. Their home games are in the Martinez gym.

Come see the St. Mary's Gaels

Of course, the best basketball in our immediate area is at St. Mary's College in Moraga—just a short drive from any of our homes. Plenty of parking, plenty of seats —and exciting games of the California Basketball Association. (Admission: under 12, 25 cents; students, 75 cents; adults, $1.25.) This league, you know, includes the nation's finest—University of San Francisco. Incidentally, St. Mary's has won its first three league games this season.

Well, I told some of our Sun staffers about our family basketball expedition to Cal. Several suggested that it would be great fun to offer a similar opportunity to all Sun families. From this developed, The Sun's Father-and-Kids Night. We talked to Denny Garrehy of St. Mary's College and the college officials were most enthusiastic. So:

Come fathers (and mothers, too) and bring all the kids. Friday night at 8, February 1, at St. Mary's College Gym. The college lowered the price of the adult ticket to $1. Just clip the coupon from The Sun and present it at the box office for your specil adult ticket. This ticket and the coupon will admit your group to a bang-up battle between St. Mary's and Loyola. Bring as many kids as you wish.

Bring along the gang

We like to think of it as a family outing, but if you want to make it a YMCA, scout, cub, brownie or Campfire Girl outing, you certainly are welcome.

I am certain there will be plenty of seats—700 are being saved for Sun readers, and other empties will also be available. We are arranging some entertainmnt for half-time.

Now a word to Dad or Mom who is not interested in sports. If your child gets the "sports bug," you too will soon become very interested. And it is wonderful for the child and for you. Sports offer a common meeting ground.

If your child has not caught the bug, this will give him an oportunity to become exposed to it. Actually, it is part of a child's education—participating sports as well as spectator sports. So, circle the date—Friday, February 1.

And there will be more dates to circle. Late this month and/or early in February a Youth Baseball Clinic will be sponsored by The Sun and Sports and Games. More details coming.

A chat with Mel

I chatted this afternoon with Mel Nielsen, who joined the Board of Supervisors Monday. Mel says the rumors that he is going to appoint new members fr om this district to the Planning Commission are wrong. Commissioners, he explained, are appointed for four year terms. J. P. Connors has one year left; Joe DeCotsa and Arthur Young have two years.

'Tis all for now.

JUVENILE HALL

Dear Editor,

Five hundred people and organizations gave gifts and money so that each child who is a ward of the county could have the gift he wanted most for Christmas.

Countless people helped in the communications for this project. The press gave us excellent coverage and individuals and organizations spread the story by word of mouth.

WRAPPING FOR mailing was a last minute affair. It meant that those volunteers must squeeze time from already full Christmas schedules — scavenging through mountains of cardboard behind stores for the right size boxes and going home with paper cuts and twine burns on their hands.

Postage would have bankrupt us so caravans delivered where they could. United Parcels, who had offered to deliver without cost some 50 heavy packages, turned not a hair when faced with the 100 to which it had grown.

And the wonderful gifts! These were presents that were carefully chosen by people who were visualizing a child's receiving this gift on Christmas day. An Archery Club called us for the height and weight of the boy who had asked for a real hunting acrhery set so that the bow would be the exact weight.

A YOUTH GROUP buying clothing for a nine-year-old girl knew that these clothes were a need and not an exciting Christmas present. They sent lovely clothes and they added a watch to the gift. Business firms helped in our purchasing with discounts and outright contributions of toys, clothing and sports equipment.

To all of the above I extend the grateful appreciation of the children who received these gifts, of the Juvenile Hall Auxiliary and of all those people in the community who care.

Sallie Hoff
Christmas Chairman
Juvenile Hall Auxiliary

Dear Editor,

I would like to have you know how much we appreciate the service you have rendered the residents of the Mt. Diablo Unified School District during the past year.

One of our objectives is to bring before the public the fact that through evening school courses, it is possible not only to complete requirements for a high school diploma, but also, any and all adults may pursue courses in the fields of business education, physical education, homemaking education, industrial arts, fine arts, parents education, and crafts, as well as academic subjects.

We have found your publication to be a very important medium for informing adults about the offerings of our evening school.

Very truly yours,
William B. Thrasher,
Principal
Mt. Diablo Evening High School

Little Girl is First to Don '57 Wraps

Mary Elizabeth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Lambert, 3150 Salvio Street, arrived too late at the Walnut Creek Kaiser Hospital for Christmas.

She is the official New Year's baby of Central Contra Costa, and the recipient of a snowfall of gifts which any Christmas baby would envy!

THE CONTEST was conducted by The Sun for many local merchants who are anxious to honor the first born of 1957.

The little girl is the younger sister of Joan Marie, 20 months old. Dad is a civilian employee with the United States Army at Rio Vista.

The prizes for infant Mary range from diaper service to baby food to portraits!

Founders' Day

Founders' Day will be celebrated by the Cornell Women's Club of Northern California tomorrow at 12:30 p.m. at the home of President Mrs. Lyman E. Lorensen, 9 Broadview Terrace, Orinda.

Famed Author to Speak At Forum, January 29

The Board of Directors of the Diablo Tuesday Morning Forum held their first meeting of the New Year last Friday morning at the home of Mrs. Hubert Prost in Ygnacio Valley.

Invitations were issued and plans completed for the spring program series.

On January 29 Miss Virgilia Peterson of New York will give a review of current "best sellers."

She has been moderator on the TV program, "Author Meets the Critics."

Miss Peterson, author and book-reviewer, has been educated at Vassar and the University of Grenoble in France.

She lived in Europe until the outbreak of World War II as the wife of a Polish prince. Her book, "Polish Profiles," tells of her life in continental Europe.

Upon her return to America she wrote critical reviews for the New York Herald-Tribune, articles for the New Yorker and Harpers, and participated in television programs and debates, all showing her as an apt critic of today's best literature.

The public is invited to any of the Forum series. Tickets may be obtained from any board member or at the door the morning of the program at the Diablo Country Club.

In her arms was a bouquet of butterfly orchids, steffanotis and fleur d'amour.

Waiting at the altar were the bridegroom and the Rev. Albert Lucas, who officiated.

All wore ruby red waltz length dresses of princess style, with embassed embroidery on crystalette. Their matching ruby red headbands were in velvet. Cascades of white holly and garnet roses were in their bouquets.

Dons, Knights Open League Play Tonight

Rams Will Have Practice Game With Monterey

With the practice season behind them, teams in the Diablo Valley Athletic League, with one exception, get down to serious business tonight as they open league play.

Las Lomas and Acalanes hook up tonight in the Lafayette gym in what promises to be a touch-and-go affair between the two arch-rivals.

The Dons rate the edge in the Bee contest, but on the basis of play to date the varsity fives look to be pretty much on a par. However, the Knights might have trouble finding the hoop on the Acalanes court, and that could spell defeat.

DON COACH Jean Ridley has had trouble getting his top five on the court together for several weeks.

Chances are he won't tonight, either, but even if he does it remains to be seen how well they function as a unit.

PLEASANT HILL sits it out tonight as far as league play is concerned but will have a go at it with Monterey in a home practice game.

The league bye is a break for the Rams, who have a few more days to get ready for their opener with Antioch next Tuesday at 3:30 p.m.

Antioch rates as one of the league's top drawer quintets and the game should give a pretty good indication of how they will stack up in league play.

Next Tuesday also finds Acalanes in League play at Pacificia. While the Dons rate the favorite's role in this one, they'll be the underdogs as guests of Pittsburg next Friday night.

LAS LOMAS plays the Diablo Devils at Walnut Creek next Tuesday. Diablo rates as pre-season league favorite behind Pitt, so the Knights have their work cut out for them.

The Devils' practice schedule has been anything but tough, so it will take league competition to find out just how well they stack up.

Next Friday the Knights take to the home court again when they play host to the Pleasant Hill Rams.

This game gives promise of being the day's best. The clubs are natural rivals and stack up even-steven on the court. If there has to be an edge, it would go to the home team, Las Lomas.

All Tuesday games are set for 3:30 p.m. tip-offs, while Friday encounters begin at 7:30 p.m.

MIRAMONTE, playing an independent junior varsity slate, meets Harry Ells at Richmond in a 3:30 p.m. game this afternoon.

Next week the Matadors play host to a pair of Richmond clubs in 3:30 p.m. contests. On Tuesday it's De Anza High and on Friday they try their skill again with Harry Ells.

Down the Slope

Oh, Where, Oh Where Can the Snows Be?

By VI WHITE

Where is the snow that's been predicted for our bare ski slopes? Cars with skis can be seen driving in all directions in search of the white gold this season.

Ice skating is going full swing now as frozen ponds, lakes, and streams can be found all over the Sierras this year, so bring along those skates 'cause if you can't ski, there is fun on the ice.

The drawing for prizes for members selling 10 or more tickets to the Oakland Ski Club's presentation of John Jay's film "Great White World" was held at a recent meeting of the club. Chairman Martin Jacobs of Orinda shook up the names and Teddy Cantanho drew the lucky tickets.

Helen and Bill Klein of Orinda had a wonderful time in Europe last summer and spent much of it selecting merchandise for their shop at Sugar Bowl and picking out personally skis to suit each person who ordered a pair from them.

Many imported and unusual items can be found in their ski shop and Bill is head ski instructor at the Bowl again this year.

UP HAVING A good time for themselves over the New Year holiday were the Nutski Club, most of whom live in Walnut Creek. Those staying at their cabin were the Ed Boeros, the Ernest Rowlands, the Jack Davis', the Al Lazzareschis, Norman Buckharts, Bob Foleys, Kurt Mullers, Buck Johnsons, Art Brunkhorsts and the Jack Turmans.

One bedroom of their winter chalet near Cal-Neva wos finished off last November and construction plans for next summer include enlarging of the kitchen.

The owners of the various sports stores; Sports and Games, Boero's and Sports Chalet ask that anyone planning to rent clothing from them for various ski trips come in at least a week in advance and sign up for your right size so that no delay will occur the day you leave.

If good care is taken of the rentals they will be ready much sooner for use the next trip.

Came across this poem not long ago and thought you might enjoy it too: Author unknown.

SKIS

I think that I shall never see
A poem lousy as a ski,
A ski that often has me pressed
Against the earth's cold snowy breast;
A ski that goes on its own sweet way
And teaches me to cuss and pray;
A ski that may in winter wear
My seat until beyond repair;
Upon whose hard ribs I have lain,
And intimately lived with pain.
Poems are ruined by fools like me
But not as I've been by a ski.

Looks like most of the meets scheduled at the different slopes have been canceled but that Sunday Slaloms will be run however.

Let's all pray to Ullr (God of Snow).

Don Babes Beat San Ramon – But Varsity Loses

The Acalanes Dons and the San Ramon Wolves, both fresh from a Christmas vacation which found their basketball limited to sparse practice sessions, hooked up in a pair of games on the Danville hardwood last Friday night.

The Don Babes copped the lightweight opener in a 33-29 thriller that left the issue in doubt down to the final buzzer, while the Don varsity dropped the nod to the Wolves, 65-52, in a high-scoring heavyweight game which found Acalanes trailing all the way.

IN THE BEE game the San Ramon club held a scant one-point lead at the midway point, 17-16.

In the third quarter the Don "little men" looked as though they were headed for defeat as they tallied but one field goal and a lone free throw and trailed 23-19, as San Ramon bagged 6 points while posting one field goal and hitting on four or five tries from the free throw line.

Paced by their ace guard, Morgan Jellett, the Dons came fast in the final quarter, to hit for 14 points while holding San Ramon in check with 6 — and that spelled the difference, giving Acalanes a 33-29 win.

THE VARSITY GAME found San Ramon wasting little time as they forged to an early comfortable 21-12 first quarter lead.

While the Don quintet, hit hard by injuries and ineligibility, fought back, it was an uphill battle and they couldn't make the grade as they went down for a final 65-52 count.

Big gun in the winners' potent attack was Forward McMillen, who bagged 22 points in three quarters of play on nine field goals and four free throws. As a matter of record, he missed but once from the free throw line.

McMillen was outstanding with his all-around floor play and sharp shooting that kept the Dons in hot water.

THE DONS did all right in the second half, after trailing 38-20 at the mid-point, as they matched San Ramon's 15-point scoring in the third quarter and outdid them in the final canto, 17-12 — but it was too late, with too little to turn the tide.

The game's and the Dons' top scorer was Forward Bill Freeman, who tanked eight field goals and a like number of charity tosses, to show with an even 24 points for the night's play.

Knights Bang 47-43 Win Over Vallejo

In what Coach Merle Callow called his team's best game to date, the Las Lomas Knights came up with a 47-43 win over the Vallejo High Apaches.

The game, played Tuesday afternoon in the Walnut Creek gym, found the Knights surging from behind in the final quarter to register the victory.

The Las Lomas five took a 22-20 halftime lead, only to trail 31-27 at the end of the third stanza.

It was a slam bang final period that decided the issue. The Knights rang up a terrific 20 points in those final minutes.

Paced by forward Dick Bergdale, who gathered 12 points, the Knights simply snowed Vallejo under, though the visitors managed a respectible 13 points of their own in that frantic fourth.

Center Roger Plier hit a jump shot from the side to put the locals ahead 39-38 with just two minutes left on the clock.

Vallejo fought back, but couldn't overtake the red-hot Knights.

Bergdale, with 15 (5 fg—5 ft) and forward Pete Ostrom with 15 (3 fg—9 ft) paced the winners' attack.

Center Art Dalbey showed to advantage, particularly with his work on the defensive boards, where he gave the Knights ball control that went a long way toward deciding the outcome.

In the preliminary, the Knights were not so fortunate as they dropped a 33-30 decision to the visiting Bees, after trailing 14-12 at halftime.

Center Tom Nickols was top scorer for the Knights as he bagged 11 points (3fg—5ft).

Concert Stars to Appear in S.F.

Double attraction at next week's San Francisco Symphony concerts is violinist Berl Senofsky, winner of the Queen Elisabeth of Belgium Award last year, and composer Darius Milhaud, conducting the first local performance of his Sixth Symphony.

Regular conductor Enrique Jorda will be on the podium for Beethoven's orchestral Country Dances and Mendelssohn's Concerto with Senofsky.

Milhaud, one of the present day's most honored composers, has been a Professor of Music at Oakland's Millls College since 1940.

Fish Hobbyists

Membership participation keynoted the program at the regular monthly meeting of the Diablo Tropical Fish Hobbyists at the Walnut Creek Recreation Center yesterday evening.

Howard Lederer talked on the "Chemistry of Water." Jim Towar spoke on "Electrical Appliances for Aquariums." A film on "Herring Fishing in the North Sea" was shown. The members then participated in a general discussion on the subject of fish.

Ballet Russe to Return to S.F.

The Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo will return to the S. F. Opera House for three performances on the evenings of February 4, 5 and 6, under the auspices of the California Civic Music Music and Arts Foundation.

Again the distinguished company, under the direction of S. J. Denham boasts a bright array of ballerinas, with the interationally famous Alicia Alonso as prima ballerina.

The male contingent is headed by the celebrated Igor Youskevitch, with Alan Howard, Miguel Terekhov, Eugene Slavin, Deni Lamont and Kenneth Gillespie in other solo spots.

The program will be as follows: Monday: "Giselle," "Sombreros" and "Gaiete Parisienne." Tuesday: "Harlequinade," "Cirque de Deux," and "Coppelia." Wednesday: "Les Sylphides," "Pas de Deux," "Sombreros" and Raymonda."

Tickets for the limited engagement are now available at Sherman Clay in San Francisco and Oakland, and at Breuner's in Oakland and Berkeley.

from P. G. and E., a new idea in home lighting

Make your living room larger..with light!

The secret: Flood the room with soft, glare-free light — cheerful light that lifts ceilings . . . pushes walls back . . . gives the room that light, airy feeling that comes with floor-to-ceiling windows all around. Here's how to get started:

(1) Count your lamps. It takes at least five lamps to light the average living room satisfactorily. Lamp shades should be white inside and open at the top for upward lighting.

(2) Check light bulbs. Table lamps should have bulbs totalling at least 150-watts; floor lamps, 300-watts.

(3) Balance the light. Place lamps so light fills the room evenly—reducing shadows, cutting down harsh glare.

With P. G. and E.'s low rates for electricity you can easily have better light, brighter living in every room in your home! Why not start right away?
